On-Premises to the Cloud

Physical hardware is becoming more obsolete as more companies progress toward cloud adoption. However, transitioning from on-premises to a hosted cloud environment can be daunting without the right expertise. Niyoon Tech Team can transition your core infrastructure to the cloud to help you:

- Save money on space and hardware
- Save time and effort by managing centrally
- Enjoy unlimited scalability

Azure Virtual Desktop — Terminal Server in the Cloud

Say goodbye to terminal servers. Although shared VDI workspaces are going strong, many companies don't realize they are using outdated technology and risking security vulnerabilities.

Azure Virtual Desktop performs better than a standard Terminal Server setup; however, it requires immense expertise to set up and use correctly. Niyoon Tech Team will give you all the tools and resources needed to modernize your shared VDI workspace to increase efficiency for your employees.

Intune & Microsoft Endpoint Manager

Save time configuring new workstations with Intune and Endpoint Manager. By centralizing device management and automating workstations and mobile devices, you can leave the complex work to us while you focus on scaling your business.

Environment Optimization

Work with our licensing and device experts to ensure that your environment is optimized to meet industry best practices.

Security Overviews and Audits

Security is a growing concern for most companies as cyber threats and attacks are rising. One mistake can compromise your entire environment — taking time and money to recover from losses.

Let us help by scheduling a security review of your current infrastructure and bringing them in line with best practices, feature updates, and training to ensure a secure workplace.

Conditional Access and MFA

Enabling Multi-factor authentication (MFA) and setting up strong conditional access policies is one of the best practices for company security. We work with you to configure the policies you request and fine-tune your environment to avoid cyberattacks and loss of team member productivity.

New Builds

Whether you're starting out from the ground up or interested in spinning up a new service, the possibilities in Microsoft 365 and Azure are endless. However, many companies do not have the expertise for new builds and risk a sloppy environment which leads to an increase of future cost due to downtime inefficiencies, and over-provisioning.

Our Microsoft engineers have expertise in almost all areas of Microsoft 365 and Azure to build everything right from the get-go. Let us handle the critical items to help you accomplish your business goals.
